Funding and Project Partners

Funding for the data analyses, research, and preparation of this plan was provided by the Nevada Division of State Lands through Question 1 Bond Issue funds for Habitat Conservation Planning awarded to the Great Basin Bird Observatory and the Nevada Department of Wildlife. All of the Nevada Partners in Flight working group partners contributed significant in-kind support to the preparation of this plan. The data generated by the Nevada Bird Count program and the Nevada Breeding Bird Atlas project (Floyd et al. 2007) were heavily used in the preparation of this plan. The following entities have been major funding or in-kind supporters of these two projects (in alphabetical order): Clark County Desert Conservation Program; Lahontan and Red Rock Audubon Societies; National Fish and Wildlife Foundation; National Park Service; Nevada Department of Wildlife; Nevada Important Bird Areas Program (Audubon Society); Nevada Natural Heritage Program; Nevada Partners in Flight; Otis Bay Environmental Consultants; Southern Nevada Water Authority; The Nature Conservancy; University of Nevada, Reno; U.S. Bureau of Land Management; U.S. Bureau of Reclamation; U.S. Department of Defense; U.S. Department of Energy; USDA Forest Service; U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service; and U.S. Geological Survey.

Plan Preparers

The preparation of this plan was a team effort. The individuals most involved with creating and drafting plan content were (in alphabetical order):

- Elisabeth Ammon, Great Basin Bird Observatory (ammon@gbbo.org) (overall document, habitat accounts)
- Jennifer Ballard, Great Basin Bird Observatory (ballard@gbbo.org) (Nevada Bird Count and bird monitoring coordination, data management and analysis)
- John Boone, Great Basin Bird Observatory (boone@gbbo.org) (overall document, species accounts, population and density estimates, habitat maps, species range maps)
- Shawn Espinosa, Nevada Department of Wildlife (sespinosa@ndow.org) (upland game bird species accounts)
- Dana Hartley, Great Basin Bird Observatory (hartley@gbbo.org) (Nevada Bird Count and Nevada Breeding Bird Atlas project data management, web content management)
- Larry Neel, Nevada Department of Wildlife (neel@ndow.org) (shorebird/waterbird species accounts, range maps, population objectives, population size estimates, species priority determination, conservation strategies)
- Ralph Phenix, Nevada Department of Wildlife and Great Basin Bird Observatory (ralphphenix@yahoo.com) (habitat maps, range maps, spatial data, NBC data analysis)
- Robin Powell, Audubon Society (rpowell@audubon.org) (threats assessments, habitat accounts, and Important Bird Areas)
- Jock Young, Great Basin Bird Observatory (young@gbbo.org) (overall document, statistical analyses, species accounts, habitat accounts, literature review)

Other Acknowledgements

A large group of scientists, resource managers, and conservation planners, many of whom are members of the Nevada Partners in Flight working group, made invaluable contributions to this plan. This planning group worked together on the overall conceptualization of the plan, determining priority bird species and priority habitat types, and identifying conservation concerns and strategies. Additionally, these individuals reviewed many draft sections of the plan and provided insight, expertise, and Nevada-specific details about the ecology and conservation needs of Nevada's birds that were often unavailable from other sources. The group's collaborative process involved a series of working meetings that began in November 2007. Five two-day meetings of the full NVPIF group were held over the next 21 months, along with ten full or half-day meetings of committees assigned to evaluate priority species and threats. The people who specifically contributed to this process, in addition to the plan preparers listed above, were (in alphabetical order):

Susan Abele, The Nature Conservancy
Aaron Ambos, Southern Nevada Water Authority
